

Search for answers to tax problems in just one second!

The Australian Master Tax Guide provides a comprehensive summary of Australian income tax law and is invaluable as a first reference to solving a tax problem.

The 1994 edition of the Guide includes numerous helpful features and accurate, practical coverage of issues such as self-assessment, depreciation, capital gains tax, training guarantee and superannuation.

And, with the Master Tax Guide on disk – it only takes one second to search the entire text!

Make sure you rely only on the most up-to-date information – place your order now for the 1994 CCH Australian Income Tax Legislation Mid-Year Edition! (Completely up to date to 30 June 1994.)

The 1994 Electronic Master Tax Guide has numerous research functions which allow you to search the text by subject, key word, cross-reference or paragraph number – literally at the touch of a button.

What's more, with cross-references to the Australian Federal Tax Reporter throughout, you have an "electronic index" to the Reporter.

You can also transfer information from the Electronic Master Tax Guide straight into your word processing program. That means you can insert a paragraph directly into a letter to a client or an internal memo – you don't have to rekey the information!

Wine tasting for members

Your Law Society is starting the new financial year with a bang!

A wine tasting will be held at The Law Society offices (first floor, Chin Building, 18 Knuckey Street) on Friday, 8 July from 4.30pm.

The cost is $20, which will include tastings of fine wines and cheeses.

Your host for the afternoon will be Wayne Nicholls of Jeany's Liquor Stores, who boasts an impressive knowledge of wines and spirits.

Please notify the Society as soon as possible if you wish to attend, as early notification of numbers is required to finalise the wine list.

Call Vicky at The Law Society on 81 5104 to confirm your attendance.

On a different note, all practising Territory lawyers and members would by now have received a membership information package for 1994-95.

This includes a membership application form accompanied by a letter from Executive Officer Jim Campbell, plus a flyer detailing all discounts on goods and services which are currently available to members.

With the exception of the Qantas Australian and BP Australia arrangements, all of these discounts are now subject to renewal for the new financial year.

All members holding BP Plus Fuelcard application forms are asked to return these to the Society as soon as possible for processing at BP Australia's head office in Melbourne. Most importantly, don't forget to fill out the Direct Debit section!

Members will receive updates on all discounts in each edition of Balance from July, 1994.

Once again, the Society urges all members to keep it informed of any goods or services they would like to see in their Member Services Package.

Your Society also urges you to return your membership application form as soon as possible so you can enjoy the many benefits associated with being a member of The Law Society of the NT.
