

Wanted: ace reporter

The Law Society needs a volunteer for Balance — its monthly publication.

The previous author of Balance's Supreme Court Notes column, Anita Del Medico, has handed in her pen and pad. The Council and members of the Society thank Anita for her contribution to Balance over the past two years.

The Society is now offering a keen practitioner, articulated clerk or associate the opportunity to become the next distinguished author of this column.

The Society produces 11 issues of Balance a year. The closing date for material to be placed with the Society is the 10th of every month for that month's edition.

Contributions from legal practitioners are always welcome and, occasionally, a volunteer is needed to help provide a service.

If you are interested in being a reporter or want to know more about the position please call the Society's Executive Officer, Jim Campbell, on 81 5104.
