Who's What Where

We need to know where you are

The Law Society requests that all practitioners inform them of changes of work place.

The Society is often required to pass on information to practitioners and needs to keep an up-to-date database of this information.

We would also ask that where a practitioner has moved to another firm or department that previous employers take on reasonable responsibility for forwarding their mail where a new address is known.

Thank you

Members Services

1996/97 Membership Renewal

All members of the Society are reminded that their current membership is due to expire on the 30 June 1996. The Law Society is in the process of sending out Membership forms for 1996/97 to members of the profession.

The Society is very keen to improve the range of discounts available to members of the Society. Member Services Officer, Janet Neville, would be pleased to hear suggestions from Members as to what they would like to see included in their Membership Discount package.

For further information on our discount package please contact the Society on 8981 5104.
