Take note: Eurotext Scam

Ian Dunn, Executive Director of the Law Institute of Victoria warns of a scam being perpetrated by a company known as Eurotext International who claim to run an international business register.

Firms in Darwin have been approached from England and the local "representative" has been calling on local practitioners over the past few weeks. The matter has been reported to the police who are making enquiries into the scheme.

The company has been calling solicitors throughout the country with the stated aim of recruiting firms to whom work relating to relocating of businesses to Australia from overseas would be referred. They ask for an up-front fee of $4,700 and at a meeting, press the targeted firms for an immediate decision and payment, citing a need to advise other competing firms of the outcome.

According to advice from the LIV, the Melbourne Fraud Squad is satisfied that it is a scam and have suggested that the LIV warn interstate Law Societies. Engineers, architects and accountants have also been approached by Eurotext International.

Claims against QBE

The General Counsel of QBE Insurance Group requests that the following be brought to the attention of members:-

"In order to increase efficiency in claims handling within QBE, especially dealing with service of originating process and subpoenas, QBE Insurance requests all documents include any details known to the member which may identify the matter to QBE.

Examples are policy type, policy number, date of loss, full name and address of insured, QBE office which issued the policy, QBE office last involved with the claim and name and position of QBE officers and name and address of QBE agent, loss adjuster or external lawyer.

This is because claims are handled locally by claims managers with assistance as required from external lawyers.

Documents may be served on Duncan Ramsay, General Counsel, QBE Insurance Group Ltd, Level 2, 82 Pitt St, NSW 2001, DX 10171, Sydney Stock Exchange, telephone 02 375 4422, fax 02 235 3166.

All documents once served will be sent to the relevant claims manager.

For claims involving the former Australian Eagle Insurance Co Ltd (now QBE Group (Investments) Ltd), the proper defendant is QBE Insurance Ltd since it assumed Australian Eagle's insurance liabilities effective 30 June 1993.

The operating insurance companies in the QBE group in Australia are:

- QBE Insurance Ltd ACN 000 157 899
- QBE Workers Compensation (NSW) Ltd ACN 003 195 604
- QBE Workers Compensation (VIC) Ltd ACN 005 020 413
- Western Underwriters insurance Ltd ACN 009 079 850

The registered office of each of these companies is Level 2, 82 Pitt St, NSW 2001."
