

What's Happening At the Law Faculty?

Migration Law

The NTU Faculty of Law is currently offering an intensive course in Migration Law which will be taught between 8-12 April. The lecturer will be Ms Maree Kennedy (BEc, LLB, LLM), a Melbourne barrister who also teaches Migration Law at Monash University.

Students who successfully complete the course will be entitled to apply for registration as Migration Agents.

The cost is $750 for the full course or $250 per day.

Contact Pam Palmer at the Faculty of Law 8946 6959

Environmental & Planning Law

This course continues with lectures being held weekly on Thursday 3.00-4.00 pm. Topics yet to be covered include property rights and common law remedies; land use planning and development control; environment impact assessment; pollution control; biological diversity; land and soil uses; environmental dispute resolution. Cost of registration for individual lectures is $20. For registration contact Pam Palmer tel: 8946 6959; for academic issues contact Freya Dawson tel: 8946 6827.

Indigenous Peoples & Property Law

These weekend seminars will continue on 19-20 April where the topic will be Land Claims: The Criteria and Procedure, presented by Ms Andrea McCallum, Registrar of the National Native Title Tribunal and Jenny Blokland, Dean of the Faculty of Law.

On 10-11 May, Freya Dawson, Matthew Storey, Paul Hayes and Stephen Grey will present the final seminar in this series entitled Natural Resources. Cost of two weekends will be $550 or $300 for an individual weekend.

Contact Pam Palmer at the Faculty of Law 8946 6959.

Malaysian & Indonesian Law

Intensive short courses in the laws of these countries will be conducted by the Centre for Southeast Asian Law from 14-18 July. Contact the Centre on tel: 8946 6943.

CCH warmly welcomes you to your new comfort zone

And we're right beside you to help you settle in ...

Comfort is having instant access to that cross-referenced case instead of taking yet another binder off the shelf.

Comfort is searching through thousands of pages of legislation in seconds.

Comfort is not having to worry about incorrect filing (or any filing at all!).

Comfort is knowing that CCH is right there beside you to help with any queries or training needs you may have.

Sometimes the new comfort zones turn out to be far more comfortable than the old! If you've been putting off the decision to invest in CD-ROM technology, now is the time to take a look at CCH's expanding range of electronic libraries. With more than 15 legal titles already on CD-ROM - all with the potential to dramatically improve your productivity - you can't afford to wait any longer.

10694 BNT 2/97

Find out more today.
Call CCH Customer
Support on
1 300 300 224
and ask for your copy of the
LAWYER'S CD-ROM REVIEW KIT

THE CCH LEGAL UNIT

We're focusing on you

Your Knowledge Partner

