

footy tipping comp

Half way through the season

by Lorelei Fong Lim

For some it's a relief the AFL season is more than half over.

For others, it just means it's time to seriously tackle the Law Society's footy tipping competition.

At the time of publication, the season had just completed the Round 12 and it's still anyone's comp with just three points separating the leader from second.

Leading after Round 12, is Lyn Bond on 143 points.

Snapping at her heels is Melanie Little on 141 followed by Chris Chaplin and Elizabeth Morris on 137.

Also in the comp in the 130s range are:

Donna Dreier, Daynor Trigg and Peter Walker (135) and Jenny Blokland (131).

Still in the game: Sean Bowden, Katrina Budrikis, Mark Johnson, Jennie Radtke and Trevor Riley (all on 129).

The rest of us have a lot of catching up to do but anything is possible with a few more rounds to be played.

Perfect round tippers so far this season: Jenny Blokland, Lyn Bond, Sean Bowden, Chris Chaplin, Donna Dreier, Melanie Little, Glenn Miller, Elizabeth Morris, Kieran Reynolds, Trevor Riley, Daynor Trigg and Peter Walker. ①

FROM DARYL WILLIAMS, FEDERAL ATTORNEY-GENERAL

"I am pleased to announce the establishment of the Council of Australasian Tribunals (COAT). This body brings together a diverse range of Commonwealth, State, Territory and New Zealand tribunals in a forum that allows them to share ideas, experiences and working methods.

The COAT provides and opportunity for tribunals to develop best practice models, ideal procedural rules, standards of behaviour and conduct. It will also be a mechanism to provide guidance, training and support for tribunal members."
