

LSNT AFL footy tipping competition

The Law Society AFL footy tipping competition is on again and members of the legal profession are battling it out for personal glory and cash prizes.

The competition is always fierce, but this year Cassandra Tys has jumped to an early lead on 108, with the rest of the tipsters at least 20 points behind.

The rules are simple: $10 entry at the start of the season and tips are submitted every week. Two points are awarded to every winning team that is tipped. Two bonus points are awarded for a full round.

Successfully tipping a draw is worth four points, but if no-one tips the result then everyone received one point.

Forgetful tipsters receive the lowest score from the round (which can sometimes be quite low).

At the end of the home and away season (in late August 2004) the tipping competition winners will be announced. There is $180 for first place, $60 for second and $30 for third.
