Crime tour a prelude to Law Week

The Law Society's free tour of crime scenes was again a popular event this year, with the April 22 tour filled almost immediately after being advertised.

The bus tour, conducted by historian, Bill Wilson, visited crime scenes between Darwin and the Adelaide River.

Mr Wilson said the tour remains popular. "Not only does it look at some of the more important crimes, it shows the futility, the waste of life," he said.

The bus tour is usually held as part of Law Week, however this year it was a couple of months early. A tour of Fannie Bay Gaol and a Cemetery Tour will be conducted during Law Week from 28 May - 8 June.
