

Launch of the Northern Territory Law Journal

JUDGES' BALCONY AT THE SUPREME COURT, THURSDAY 28 JUNE

A large contingent of the Territory's legal profession attended the launch of the new Northern Territory Law Journal at the Supreme Court on 28 June.

The function, on the Judges Balcony, was MC'd by Justice Mildren, and the journal was officially launched by Justice Kirby.

In his amusing address, Justice Kirby urged members of the legal profession to contribute to the Law Journal, as he has done for the first edition (he assured the audience that the typo in his article was through no fault of his own!)

Justice Kirby told of the first attempt at the Northern Territory Law Journal, which was hampered by the arrival of Cyclone Tracy in the month it was to be launched.
