

Welcome the dry

*Suzie Simmons,
Public Relations Officer,
Law Society Northern Territory*

As the dry season finally kicks in, there are a couple of regular diary dates for you to pencil in that will take full advantage of our glorious dry season weather.

Annual Golf Day

The Northern Territory Bar Association and the Law Society of the Northern Territory present the 2nd Annual Ian Morris Memorial Golf Day on Friday, 13 August 2010.

Renamed last year in honour of the late, great Morrie, who took great delight in organising this event in the past, the competition is open to lawyers, members of other professions and any friend of Morrie's who would like to participate.

Further details to follow but meanwhile you have time to get a team together in readiness for a relaxed and good-humoured afternoon at the RAAF Darwin Golf Club.

The roving drinks cart will again be making the rounds all afternoon for gold coin donations, and the barbeque will be fired up in time for the presentations.

A donation will once again be made from profits to Morrie's favourite charity, Variety NT.

Annual Dinner

Following a fabulous evening on the lawns at the Cornucopia Museum Cafe last year, it has been unanimously decided to make a return visit on Saturday 21 August.

We will be honouring the career of the Hon Chief Justice Brian Martin on what will be the first day of his well-earned retirement.

Do join us for a superb evening of convivial company, elegant music and delicious epicurean delights under the stars.
