

Essential Internet sites

CU lists key internet sites for Net users interested in media and communications

Australian Government:

<http://gov.info.au>

Australian National Library:

<http://www.nal.gov.au/oz/gov/ozgov.html>

Parliament of Australia - information on both Houses, members, agendas and voting records. Access to ANU's Hansard trial is provided: <http://www.aph.gov.au/library/trialhom.html>

Australia's largest cultural institution has headed off into cyberspace - The ABC is online: <http://www.abc.net.au>

SBS:

<http://www.sofcom.com.au/SBS/>

Channel 9 (Brisbane) - locally produced shows - 'Extra', 'The National Nine News' and 'The Footy Show': <http://desing.net.au/nine/pages/home.html>

Australian Film Commission:

<http://www.afc.gov.au>

Australian TV Guides - a database of Australian television programs on channels, 2,7,9,10 and SBS: <http://www.sofcom.com.au/TV/index.html> - this site only covers Sydney, Melbourne and Brisbane and the regional networks that carry the same programs. Works on a 10 day period ahead of access date, can be searched by keywords, time, dates and channels.

Australian Broadcasting Authority - no plans for their own hot site but can be located on the Department of Communications & the Arts web site: <http://www.dca.gov.au/aba/hpcov.htm>

Australian Screen Directors' Association:

<http://www.ozemail.com.au/~asda>

AIMIA - Australasian Interactive Multimedia Industry Association:

<http://www.next.com.au/aimia>

CNN's new web site - an online news source:

<http://www.cnn.com/index.html>

Copyright Law Review Committee Secretariat:

<http://www.agps.gov.au>

Geekgirl - on-line feminist zine:

<http://www.geekgirl.com.au>

WomensWeb:

<http://crc.web.apc.org/womensweb>

Office of the Status of Women:

<http://www.nal.gov.au/osw/osw.html>

The Electronic Frontier Foundation

- a civil liberties organisation to protect privacy, free expression and online access: <http://www.eff.org/>

Legal Sites

The Australasian Legal Information Institute

is a service that provides, among other things, decisions of the High Court and Commonwealth legislation. The AustLII's site can be found: <http://austlii.law.uts.edu.au/index.html>

This site houses:

High Court page:

http://www.austlii.edu.au/au/cases/cth/high_ct

Commonwealth legislation:

http://www.austlii.edu.au/cth_legis/index.html

Butterworths:

<http://www.butterworths.com.au/>

Law Book Company:

<http://www.ozemail.com.au/~lawbook>

The Legal Information Index: <http://spirit.com.au/~danlaw/>

A free registry of lawyers' e-mail addresses is housed at: <http://www.keating.netSPACE.net.au/page1/htm>

LawNet: <http://lawnet.com.au>

Popular Film and Television Directories - Most of these sites are American-basedAcademy of Motion Pictures Arts & Sciences:

<http://www.lightside.com/ampas/>

The Internet Movie Database - Australian Mirror:

<http://ballet.cit.gu.edu.au/Movies/>

TVNet: <http://tvnet.com/TVnet.htm>

Movies Reviews:

<http://www.timeinc.com/pathfinder/reviews/movies/html>

Screenwriters' Page:

<http://www.teleport.com/~cdeemer/scrwriter.html>

Film Related Files courtesy of Wiretap:

<gopher://Wiretap.Spies.COM/11/Library/Media/Film>

Directors' Guild of America: <http://leonardo.net/dga/index/html>

CineMedia Director:

<http://www.gu.edu.au/gwis/cinemedia/CineMedia.DIR.html>