

Travelling fellowship

The name of Dr F.A. Thorpe is internationally known as the pioneer of the large print books known as the Ulverscroft Large Print series.

The Ulverscroft Foundation has decided to establish a Frederick A. Thorpe Travelling Fellowship, which will be awarded in alternate years, commencing in 1982. It will be up to £2000 in value, and the Foundation may award more than one Fellowship in any year at its discretion.

The aim of the Fellowship is to give librarians, teachers, lecturers or others working in related fields, the opportunity of developing their knowledge and commitment. This may be by undertaking an approved piece of work, study, demonstration, innovation, research or experiment in the supply of books and other reading material, or information and other media, to handicapped and needy people.

Further particulars, and application forms may be obtained from Ulverscroft Foundation, The Green, Bradgate Road, Anstey, Leicestershire, UK — but hurry because applications close on 31 March 1982.

Inserts in this issue

In this issue all members should find a leaflet from D.W. Thorpe. If you are a Victorian you should also receive a yellow newsletter, and if you are New South Welsh there should be a green Annual Report for you.

If any of these inserts are missing from your InCite, please contact this office, and they will be sent out to you.

DEAKIN UNIVERSITY GEELONG

HEAD CATALOGUING DEPARTMENT

Applications are invited for the position of Head of the Cataloguing Department in the University Library.

The Head of the Cataloguing Department is responsible to the Senior Librarian, Technical Services, for the cataloguing of all library materials and their preparation for use, for the production and maintenance of the catalogue, and for the direction and supervision of ten departmental staff.

Deakin University is a member of CAVAL Ltd., and the Library contributes to the CAVAL database and participates in its shared cataloguing system. At present machine-readable input is submitted on discs, but enhancements are being planned which include on-line access to the database. Cataloguing throughout is some 16,000 titles per year. The catalogue is on microfiche and contains 75,000 records. Another 60,000 records are still in card form and require conversion. The Library has recently acquired the integrated Dataphase library system, primarily for circulation, but available for the shelf list and some other catalogue functions. Long term plans include the development of an on-line catalogue and machine-to-machine links with the University computer (DEC-20), and networks such as CAVAL and ABN. The acquisition function is already automated and operating on-line on the University computer, using software produced by programming staff of the University.

Applicants should be eligible for professional membership of the Library Association of Australia, with at least either an appropriate degree and approved library qualifications, or a recognised integrated four year degree. Substantial cataloguing experience is essential and practical experience in a supervisory position and familiarity with computer based operations are highly desirable.

Salary: $24,639 to $27,586pa depending upon qualifications and experience.

Additional information is available from the Chief Librarian, Miss M. Cameron (telephone 052 47 1344) or the Senior Librarian, Technical Services, Mr N. Rudakov (telephone 052 47 1346).

Written applications (quoting reference number 82/06) should include a full curriculum vitae and the names and addresses of three referees and should be sent to reach the Staff Officer, Deakin University, Victoria, 3217 by 18 March 1982.
