

An invitation from across the Tasman NZLA Conference 1987

Information: path to the future' is the theme of the New Zealand Library Association Conference to be held in Wellington, 9-12 February 1987. The conference will focus on the processes of change, the definitions of information, our role in providing cultural, vocational and industrial informational services, and the requirement for our profession to participate in change. The venue is the splendid and newly opened Michael Fowler Centre in the centre of Wellington City.

A comprehensive trade exhibit will be open to the public providing marketing opportunities to exhibitors and also indicating to the general public the scope of modern library information services which exploit current technologies. Trade exhibitors will be invited to give brief 'product reviews' within the conference program, as was done for the Online-87 conference in Sydney.

During a recent visit to New Zealand, LAA Vice President Peter Dawe addressed the mid-winter meeting of the Wellington Branch of the Library Association of New Zealand. He is shown here discussing the NZLA conference program with Conference Convenor Monica Hisk. The New Zealand organisers are hoping that members of Australian librarians may be interested in making a 'package deal' of the Online-87 Conference in Sydney, and then going on for the NZLA Conference. They are assured of a warm welcome in Wellington.

A strong invitation is extended to Australian librarians to attend the conference, and our New Zealand colleagues are exploring the possibilities of offering billeting in private homes.

Enrolment forms for the conference and further information may be obtained from Peter Dawe, CSIRO, 314 Albert Street, East Melbourne, Victoria 3002 (03) 418 7230.
