Riverina Regional Group

21st Birthday celebrations

More than thirty past and present members heard speeches and tributes from Eric Hoare, Carol Mills, Margaret Russell and Edward Reid-Smith when the Riverina Regional Group held its 21st birthday celebrations in Griffith on Saturday 21 October.

Margaret Russell was accorded recognition for her outstanding contribution in setting up and supporting the Regional Group. At its inception in 1968 there were twelve members — compared to more than 100 today!

On its 21st birthday, the Riverina Regional Group is facing one of its biggest challenges — the hosting of the 2nd ALIA conference in Albury-Wodonga in 1992. Certainly the strength and activities of the Group during the past 21 years auger well for the task of planning and staging what should be one of the most successful conferences yet.

“DOES YOUR LIBRARY HAVE OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH AND SAFETY MATERIAL?”

The Information Services Section of Worksafe Australia is currently compiling a guide to Australian Libraries with Substantial Holdings of Occupational Health and Safety Material. We intend to publish the guide to assist individuals and organisations to identify local sources of OH&S information. The aims of the guide are to:

- facilitate resource sharing through inter-library loans.
- facilitate co-operative collection development and
- document specialised OH&S information services offered.

If you would like your library to be included in this guide please contact Lynn Telfer on (02) 265 7443. (Those libraries which have already returned completed questionnaires will be included and need not telephone.) A copy of the guide will be sent free of charge to each contributor.

We would also like to hear from you if you are interested in obtaining purchasing information about this publication when it is available.
