AIMA Training & Consultancy Services Ltd

AIMA intends to produce a Resource Notebook on Strategic Planning, to assist libraries undertaking this process.

Material was gathered, in late 1991 and early in 1992, from a range of libraries. This material is now being updated. At that time, there were very few plans available from libraries outside the university sector, and the State and National Libraries.

If you head a library outside this group, and have a published plan that you found has assisted in the management of your library and would be willing to make your plan available to guide others, please send a copy to me, George Eichinski, c/-University of Queensland Library QLD 4072, by the end of October. Your assistance on this would be greatly appreciated.
