

Judith James has been appointed Senior Librarian, Saint Mark's National Theological Centre, Canberra. Judith has been teaching in Charles Sturt University's Library and Information Studies courses in distance education for librarians. She now has the challenge of implementing systems and services despite the geographical spread of the campuses. In this, membership of UNILINC has been a vital component.

Dr Gulten Wagner has been appointed to the senior lecturer position at Edith Cowan University's Department of Library and Information Science. Gulten's previous position was with the School of Information and Library Studies (SILS) at Curtin University of Technology. Dr Wagner has recently published Public Libraries as Agents of Communication: a Semiotic Analysis (Scarecrow Press); and edited Information Retrieval in Libraries: Philosophies and Techniques, first occasional paper of SILS.

Also at Monash, Karen Tang has been appointed Deputy Humanities and Social Sciences Librarian/Lending Services Librarian. Karen has been at Monash University Library since 1988 as a Subject Librarian and has also lectured part-time at Monash's Graduate Department of Librarianship, Archives and Records.

Chess Krawczyk is now the Chief Executive Officer and partner in the Corporate and Government Division of the Computech Computer Group. Chess has moved from Librarian (Automation) at Wollongong University, through Chief Systems Librarian at the NLA to Head of School, Information Studies at Canberra TAFE before moving full time into computing as Canberra Branch Manager for Microsoft and Communications Account Manager for Memorex Telex. His interests still include books as a valuer under the Tax Incentives Scheme, wine (books), multimedia computing and deep scuba diving.

Robyn Smith

Bronwyn Miekle

Dr Gulten Wagner

Chess Krawczyk

ing the URICA system to automate the specialist theology collection

Robyn Smith has been appointed Campus Librarian at the Gardens Point (City) Campus of QUT. Robyn holds a BA, registration with ALIA, a Graduate Diploma of Management and an MBA. Her prior experience includes library positions with the Brisbane CAE, the State Library of Queensland and public libraries. Robyn's previous appointment was as Campus Librarian at the Kelvin Grove Campus of QUT.

Bronwyn Miekle has joined QUT after five and a half years in Queensland TAFE. She was Senior College Librarian at Northpoint College of TAFE, a metropolitan college with 5 campuses. Previously she was Senior College Librarian at Hervey Bay Senior College, a multi-purpose institution offering TAFE and Senior High School courses, in addition to first year degree programs in conjunction with the University of Southern Queensland.

Susan Blood and Stephen Parnell have been appointed as Directors of the campus libraries of Charles Sturt University at Bathurst and Wagga Wagga. With Mary Macaulay the Director at Albury, they have University-wide responsibilities as well as managing their respective libraries. The University Library is coordinating systems and services despite the geographical spread of the campuses. In this, membership of UNILINC has been a vital component.

Dr Gulten Wagner has been appointed to the senior lecturer position at Edith Cowan University's Department of Library and Information Science. Gulten's previous position was with the School of Information and Library Studies (SILS) at Curtin University of Technology. Dr Wagner has recently published Public Libraries as Agents of Communication: a Semiotic Analysis (Scarecrow Press); and edited Information Retrieval in Libraries: Philosophies and Techniques, first occasional paper of SILS.

John Adams has recently retired from his position as Senior Lecturer in the Department of Information Management and Library Studies at RMIT. John first joined RMIT as a part-time lecturer in 1966 and became a full-time lecturer in 1968. His specialities, and his first loves, were the history of libraries and children's literature librarianship, and he also taught extensively in the area of bibliography and reference work. Generations of students will remember him for his care for students, the meticulous preparation which went into his teaching, and for the voluminous reading lists which accompanied his subject outlines and essay guides. His many friends and colleagues in the profession, and his former students, will join together in wishing him well in what seems likely to be more of a new career than a retirement.

Ted Glasson, Law Librarian, Monash University is retiring after

25 years at Monash University. Ted started work at Monash University Library in January 1967 and was appointed Law Librarian in 1969. Under Ted's guidance the library has become one of the major law libraries in Australia, with holdings growing from 20 000 volumes in 1969 to 125 000 volumes today.

Also at Monash, Karen Tang has been appointed Deputy Humanities and Social Sciences Librarian/Lending Services Librarian. Karen has been at Monash University Library since 1988 as a Subject Librarian and has also lectured part-time at Monash's Graduate Department of Librarianship, Archives and Records.

Chess Krawczyk is now the Chief Executive Officer and partner in the Corporate and Government Division of the Computech Computer Group. Chess has moved from Librarian (Automation) at Wollongong University, through Chief Systems Librarian at the NLA to Head of School, Information Studies at Canberra TAFE before moving full time into computing as Canberra Branch Manager for Microsoft and Communications Account Manager for Memorex Telex. His interests still include books as a valuer under the Tax Incentives Scheme, wine (books), multimedia computing and deep scuba diving.

Marjorie Burne, for many years with the SA Parliamentary Library until her retirement in 1988 has just been recognised as one of their International Women of the Year 1991/92 by the International Biographical Centre in Cambridge, UK. The award is linked to cultural exchanges among nations. ■