

Countdown to NZLIA/ALIA 1994

With the NZLIA/ALIA 1994 Joint Conference now looming large in our calendar, we'd like to let you know about the trade exhibition and conference sponsors.

There is a wide range of exhibitors at the conference from Australia, New Zealand, Europe and North America. Competition for space was fierce, with stands sold out early this year.

Sponsorship comes in several categories, with Gold sponsors this year being EBSCO and James Askew.

EBSCO is again sponsoring the Ebsco Express, which will be distributed daily to all delegates. It will be full of details for you on each day's events and speakers, as well as reports on the previous day's proceedings.

Notable sponsors of the conference, which runs from 26-30 September are:

- Baker and Taylor for its sponsorship of junior acquisitions staff to the conference. Four Australian acquisitions staff will benefit from this sponsorship.

- Swets for its sponsorship of two Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Library Staff.

The ALIA stand will be packed with information for you and our staff will be on hand to answer your questions.

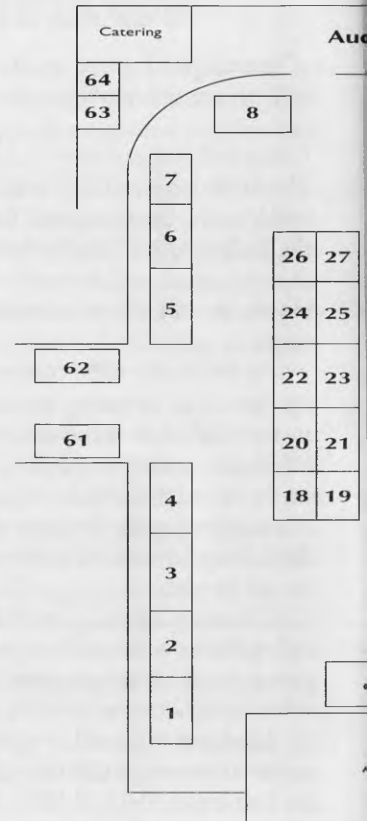

Look out for information on the ALIA 1996 4th Biennial Conference in Melbourne, and on all ALIA conferences throughout 1995, as well as sample copies of all ALIA publications you can buy.

Make sure too that you visit the trade exhibition. There are 48 companies on show, supporting libraries and the continued success of our conferences. Visit the ALIA stand also and meet some of the staff who run the Association's National Office for you.

Elsewhere in this feature you will find a floor plan of the conference trade exhibition and a list of sponsors supporting our conference.

Finishing on another positive note, it's encouraging to see that over 900 delegates had registered by the end of August — a great result.

See you in Wellington! ■
