

Alison Wallace has been appointed Senior Librarian at the Brisbane office of the national law firm, Corrs Chambers Westgarth. Her new role also includes training of staff on the library systems, as well as the coordination of information retrieval for the firm's partners and solicitors. In previous posts, Alison was with another law firm and was the Deputy Law Librarian of the University of Queensland.

Richelle Conlan has commenced work at Gosford City Library Service (GCLS) as its first Aboriginal Trainee Library Technician. Richelle recently completed Year 12 at Gosford High School. She will attend TAFE for 1 1/2 days per week and will spend the balance of the week and TAFE holidays working at GCLS. Richelle is employed under the Aboriginal Employment Strategy which has been developed as a joint venture by Federal, State and Local governments. During her three years of study and employment at GCLS Richelle will be trained in all aspects of library work.

David Berry has just taken over from Bob Sharman as editor of Orana and is eagerly looking for contributions to maintain the high standard of this journal. Contact him at school on tel (07) 281 3566 or at home on (07) 201 8420; fax (07) 281 1060.

CD Rom & Associates has now been incorporated into DA Information Services as a new division to be known as DA Electronic Media. Richard Siegersma, Caroline Beatty and the team from CD Rom & Associates will continue to provide support and will keep their customers fully informed of new developments. ■

Richelle Conlan

The ALIA membership competition

And the winners were...

- San Mary Bryan gets 12 months free membership for winning the draw of members renewing by 31 January 1994;
- Brian Rice has won free registration and conference dinner attendance at the NZLIA/ALIA Joint 1994 Conference or the 1995 Division conference in the draw of ALIA members nominating a new member by 31 December 1993;
- Trevor Wakely has won 12 months free subscription to

The Australian Library Journal and a Division journal of his choice, for nominating the most new members (twenty!) between 1 October 1993 and 31 December 1993. But he is generously donating his prize copy of ALJ to the 'first new member joining ALIA after 21 March' and ASL to the 'first new member joining the

Trevor Wakely

'Specials section' after that date. (ALIA office staff will record the first names out of the mail). ■

Jennifer Jones, BScDipLib AALIA, 1950-1994

Jennifer Jones died on 1 February 1994

Jenny was well known in the Specials area of librarianship; first as a practising librarian in the mining industry, and for the past 10 years with Enterprise Information Management Pty Ltd.

Working as a library and information management consultant she touched the lives of many special librarians, then reached a wider circle when she became the editor of Online Currents, a monthly newsletter.

The online industry was her passion and she was delighted to participate as a member of the committee of the biennial Online Conference. A true librarian, she was always eager to expand the boundaries of her knowledge, and held high standards of professional commitment in any task she undertook.

Her death was untimely, she will be missed not only by her family but also her wide circle of colleagues.

Pamela Johnstone & Elizabeth Drynan