

National Year of Reading 2012

The National Year of Reading was officially launched at the National Library of Australia on the 14th of February. We will be covering the launch in more detail in the next issue of INCITE, but we thought we would share some of the early photos. Members will recognise ALIA staff both past and present – ALIA

Photography by Gem Kelly

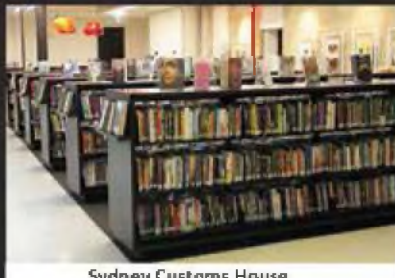

is a founding partner of NYR2012, and the behind-the-scenes work for the initiative has spanned years in planning, organising, and advocating. In the photos: current ALIA staff meet with ACT Senator Kate Lundy; Former ALIA Director: Member Services and current National Year of Reading Project

Photograph taken by official NYR launch photographer Wayne Quilliam

Director, Robyn Ellard and National Year of Reading Patron, William McInnes; the Prime Minister shows her support.

Australia's Best Library Systems!

Sydney Customs House

Ravenswood School for Girls

State Library NSW Reference Library

Stanhope Gardens

Abax Systems is committed to maintaining and exceeding all performance benchmarks in a responsible manner. We deliver value by building trustworthy, long-lasting relationships with you in order to provide you with what you want.

Abax is deeply committed to providing the highest level of customer care and service.

50 years of Kingfisher™ library systems in Australia proves the test of time; discover how Kingfisher™ can create your library.

Redeemer Baptist College

