

CH-CH-CH CHANGES IN THE HUNTER

A LIA Hunter held their second unconference in Newcastle in March. The theme 'Ch-Ch-Ch Changes' was selected to reflect the always evolving nature of our industry.

Attendees were from many areas of the LIS sector, from TAFE to public libraries, students and seasoned professionals. A few people even travelled from as far afield as Orange, Sydney and Canberra, which provided different perspectives on servicing a wide range of clientele.

Discussions generated on the day included social media strategies and risks, embedding online service delivery, leadership, mentorship and professional development, cultural change, maker spaces, copyright and ALIA's FAIR initiative.

Diana Richards, ALIA's ACT and NSW State Manager, was our lightning talker and gave a fascinating account of her experiences with Alice Springs Library; their service delivery to their community is truly tailored, providing inspiration and food for thought for all.

Thank you to Newcastle Region Library for hosting our unconference at Wallsend Library, and to our attendees for helping to create a fantastic day!
